Re: Reduce Senior Homelessness: Expand and Enhance the Adult Protective Services (APS) Program

Dear Senator Pan and Assemblymember Arambula,

On behalf of the County Welfare Directors Association of California (CWDA), Justice in Aging, the California State Association of Counties (CSAC), the Service Employees International Union (SEIU), the Urban Counties of California, the Congress of California Seniors, the California Association of Public Authorities (CAPA), and the California State Association of PA/PG/PC, we respectfully urge the Health and Human Services Budget Subcommittees to provide $100 million State General Fund (SGF) to expand and enhance the Adult Protective Services (APS) program to meet the growing needs of older adults who are victims of abuse, neglect, and exploitation. This population is growing fast as are cases with increasingly complex needs, including those who are homeless or cognitively impaired. The funding request includes several components:

- Provide long-term case management, including for those who are homeless and have cognitive impairments, and allow APS to serve highly vulnerable adults aged 60-65 ($65 million SGF).
- Build upon the APS Home Safe Program to include additional counties and allow the program to assist those who have become homeless or who need longer-term housing supports ($25 million SGF).
- Encourage collaborative, multi-disciplinary best-practices across the state, looking to Financial Abuse Specialist Teams and Forensic Centers as models to address complex cases with targeted cross-systems response ($10 million SGF).

APS currently serves individuals over 65 and dependent adults ages 18-64 who are disabled, who are unable to meet their own needs or are victims of abuse, neglect and exploitation. Law enforcement, doctors, and other mandated reporters and the community rely on APS services to protect older and dependent adults from further abuse. APS is an effective program, responding to 190,715 reports of abuse in 2017-18, which represents a 58 percent increase in reports since 2011-12.

As you may be aware, the older adult population in California is rapidly growing. By 2030, one in five Californians will be age 65 or older.ⁱ Between 2018 and 2025, an estimated 29.2% of those over 65 are projected to have Alzheimer's.ⁱⁱ The number of older adults in California with disabilities will increase from 1 million in 2015 to nearly 3 million in 2060.ⁱⁱⁱ Additionally, California's aging population is also an increasingly homeless population. According to Dr. Margot Kushel, Director of the UCSF Center for Vulnerable Populations, approximately 50 percent of homeless individuals are over age 50, and half of those became homeless after age 50.

The APS program as currently designed and funded could not have anticipated the widespread severity of the housing crisis nor the dramatic demographic changes that California is undergoing. County APS programs are struggling to keep up with the growth in reports and are not currently resourced to serve the increasing number of victims with complex needs who require more intensive case management to remain safe in their homes and communities. The requested $100 million would grow the APS program to meet the needs of a larger, more diverse population with more frequent complex cases that involve individuals with cognitive impairments or issues such as homelessness.

Our Coalition of agencies regularly partner with, and rely upon, the services of the APS Program to protect vulnerable older adults from abuse, neglect and exploitation. It is critical that the APS Program ramps up to provide the critical safety net services to prevent undesired outcomes, including premature death and unnecessary hospitalizations or placement into institutional settings like nursing homes, which all are more costly to individuals and to society.

With its long and successful history of serving these particularly vulnerable individuals, the APS Program is uniquely positioned and stands ready to provide enhanced services and linkages to supports with an increase in funding. Given the significant growth the state is seeing in its older adult population and a corresponding growth in senior homelessness, it is imperative to give attention to the complex needs of vulnerable older adults now so that the system is set up to prevent older adults who are victims of abuse, neglect, and exploitation from further trauma and crisis. By funding this request, the state will be strengthening resources for the most vulnerable older adults and begin to tackle the issue of senior homelessness. For these reasons, we urge your support for this request.

Thank you for your consideration of our request.

Sincerely,
