The Economics of Abuse Report:
A Study of San Luis Obispo County

Child maltreatment is a persistent problem within San Luis Obispo County. Although it is a hidden social ill, its impact is significant. Child maltreatment impacts not just the child, but the family, the community, and society at large. In California, as many as one out of every 19 children is suspected of being maltreated. The impact of maltreatment not only morally degrades our society, it significantly hurts our economy. In fact, the physical, mental, and emotional effects of maltreatment persist long after child maltreatment occurs, and result in ongoing costs to every sector of California.

Child maltreatment is a core underlying factor in many of California's ongoing struggles, such as high rates of school dropout, homelessness, incarceration, and chronic health issues. This report shines a light on this largely ignored issue, with a specific focus in your county, and the negative impact it has on all of us.

The Financial Impacts of Child Abuse

The cumulative financial impact to San Luis Obispo County for the 549 verified survivors of maltreatment and 2 maltreatment fatalities in 2017 is $202,000,000. Though these costs are accrued over the course of the victim's life, the community will continue to occur the same cost each year until we are able to reduce and ultimately end child abuse.

- HEALTHCARE - $49,439,162
Victims may require hospital care, mental health services, and other medical services during childhood, and have a higher incidence of physical and mental health issues throughout adulthood.
- LIFETIME PRODUCTIVITY - $100,532,262
Victims are more likely to be unemployed and rely on public assistance which lead to diminished earning potential.
- EDUCATION - $8,416,216
Abused children are 77 percent more likely to require special education.
- FATALITY - $3,158,234
Lost wages and costs incurred by the healthcare system due to fatal incidents of abuse.
- CHILD WELFARE - $35,990,085
Victims may require intervention services, foster care, and counseling services.
- CRIMINAL JUSTICE - $4,296,252
Abused children are 59 percent more likely to be arrested as juveniles, and 28 percent more likely to have an adult criminal record.
